National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges (NCJFCJ) Initiatives:

1) Juvenile Justice Model Court-Juvenile Justice Model Courts Project of the Juvenile and Family Law Department of the NCJFCJ; Short Title: NCJFCJ Juvenile Justice Model Courts Project – On 7/1/2011, Juvenile Court became one of only a dozen courts nationwide designated a Juvenile Justice Model Court. A Juvenile Justice Model Court is one that makes the commitment of human and fiscal resources to follow key principles and recommendations set forth in the Juvenile Delinquency Guidelines. In this context, the term means that a court seeks to improve practice by implementing the Juvenile Delinquency Guidelines and assessing its progress serving as a "model" for broad systems change. The Project advances essential elements to help courts achieve improved delinquency case processing and outcomes for youth, families and communities while aspiring to excellence. Project is underway. Contacts: Pam Skelton and Dini Malone

2) School Pathways to Juvenile Justice System Project - On November 25, 2013, the NCJFCJ selected Juvenile Court as one of 16 courts in the nation to participate in the School Pathways to Juvenile Justice System Project. The NCJFCJ provides training and technical assistance to help judicial leaders develop efforts to reduce referrals of youth to juvenile courts for school-based misbehaviors and expand positive disciplinary practices in schools. The goal is to support student engagement and reduce students' school exclusion. The work is based on the successes of Judge Steven Teske (Clayton Co., GA) and former judge Brian Huff (Jefferson Co., AL) that addressed school-to-juvenile justice system issues in their jurisdictions and assisted other courts in this regard. Sites were assigned a Site Visit Facilitator by NCJFCJ based on their knowledge and experience in school-court issues. The first Site Visit occurred on December 16-17, 2014. Judge Steven Teske, Judge John Romero of Albuquerque, NM and Cheri Ely are NCJFCJ Facilitators. October 2015: Phase 2 Technical Assistance (TA) pending. December 2015: Conference call with Teresa Bohannon, NCJFCJ, to discuss Phase 2 TA. March 2016: (New) Phase 2 TA Site Visit conducted on March 7-8, 2016. The NCJFCJ Team includes: Kelesha Nevers, Irene Rose and John Rosiak-NCJFCJ; Teri Deal and Melissa Sickmund-National Center for Juvenile Justice (NCJJ). Contact: Pam Skelton

3) National Implementation Site for Dependency and Neglect - On July 7, 2014, the NCJFCJ chose Juvenile Court as one of only eight sites in the country as a National Implementation Site for Dependency and Neglect. This is a nationwide child welfare program to "implement best practices and to improve court systems for the benefit of the children and families in the respective jurisdiction." Juvenile Court was chosen, in part because of "the court's commitment and motivation to implement system reform efforts; the court's willingness to organize and form a strong collaborative team; and the court's desire to improve current court practice." The NCJFCJ has partnered with courts across the country since 1992 to improve outcomes for abused and neglected children and their families. Selected sites receive assessments, training and technical assistance as they work to improve practices and outcomes. NCJFCJ staff works closely with judges and their court teams. The NCJFCJ provides training on the Enhanced Resource Guidelines and fosters connections to the network of the NCJFCJ Model Courts. On November 12-14, 2014, the first TA Site Visit was conducted by Franz Braun and Sarah Ray, Project Leaders. On March 18-20, 2015, Judge Michael and key Court staff attended the All-Sites Conference in Reno, NV. (New) March 2016 Update: Sarah Ray is Project Leader. Contact: Pam Skelton

4) Memphis and Shelby County Trauma Audit (New) - In order to successfully meet contradictory goals, courts need to understand the many underlying factors affecting the lives of juveniles and their families. One of the most pervasive of these factors is exposure to trauma. To be most effective in achieving its mission, juvenile courts must both understand the role of traumatic exposure in the lives of children and engage resources and interventions that address child traumatic stress. The NCJFCJ is working with juvenile and family courts and stakeholders nationally to (a) define and operationalize what it means to be a trauma-responsive court, and (b) develop a protocol to conduct "trauma audits" in courts to assess the degree to which environment, practice, and policy are trauma-responsive. The NCJFCJ formed a multidisciplinary team of staff and consultant experts in social psychology, developmental psychology, trauma/victimization, domestic violence, and research methods to explore various methodologies and conduct trauma audits in courts.

On February 16-18, 2016, Juvenile Court participated in the first comprehensive Trauma Audit. The NCJFCJ Team is comprised of Sarah Ray, Lorie Sicafuse, PhD, Carlene Gonzalez, PhD, Kelly Ramasinghe, JD and Monique Morrow, PhD.
