Members Needed for Boards and Commissions

Shelby County Mayor Mark Luttrell, Jr. is looking for qualified people to serve on community boards and commissions.

“I’d like for citizens across Shelby County to consider sharing their expertise. We have many available positions. Our boards and commissions provide a vital service to Shelby County,” said Mayor Luttrell.

The Shelby County Mayor’s Office has authority to recommend membership to more than 40 boards and commissions. Some positions require technical experience. Other positions require few qualifications and commitments.

All of those nominated by Mayor Luttrell must pass a criminal background check and be approved by the Shelby County Commission.

Those interested should send letters to Theresa.hill@shelbycountyttn.gov or contact her at (901) 222-2000.

For a complete listing of the boards and commissions with vacancies or expired terms, go to www.shelbycountyttn.gov and click on boards and commissions.
