SCSO Facebook Page, IDThisPerson.com Sites Assist Other Agencies in Identifying Wanted Suspects

As you are aware, social media sites have now become the primary source of information for almost everyone in this technology driven world. As of today, our Facebook page now surpasses the 16,000 'like' mark.

Recently, this page along with IDThisPerson.com and tips from the public have aided in the identification of unknown suspects in three separate cases around the Mid-South. As a result, positive ID's have been made regarding a business burglary, stolen check writer and theft case which have led to arrest warrants being issued.

Shelby County Sheriff Bill Oldham says, "Our Facebook page is not only engaging the community, it is also helping us to link cases with other law enforcement agencies throughout the region. The safety of the public is our number one priority and anything we can do to keep our citizens involved will help to keep our communities safer."

The page was launched July 4, 2010 with the goal of keeping citizens informed about criminal activity while also enlisting their help in solving cases with tips, many of which have led to successful arrests.

We continue to encourage individuals to visit the site as we seek new followers. Our agency is also on Twitter.
