Snow Predicted For Shelby County

A Winter Weather Advisory has been issued for Shelby County by the National Weather Service. Snow is predicted for the area tonight. Up to two inches could fall by morning.

“Our emergency services coordinators are on alert. Director Bob Nations and his staff at the Shelby County Office of Preparedness are staying in contact with the National Weather Service and the Tennessee Emergency Management Agency,” said Shelby County Mayor Mark H. Luttrell, Jr.

Snow should move into Shelby County sometime after 6 o'clock tonight. It will continue through 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

“Everyone needs to keep a close check on the weather. We don't want people stranded on snow-covered roads,” said Director Nations.

Shelby County Sheriff's Deputies will relay road conditions throughout the night to the Shelby County Office of Preparedness. Additionally, Shelby County Public Works crews are prepared. “Our salt and sand trucks are loaded and ready to respond,” said Shelby County Public Works Director Tom Needham.
