

Violence at home doesn't always stay there.

Are you ...

An employer? Business owner?
An HR professional? A security official?

If so, a conference on April 11, 2014, is designed specifically for you:

Violence at Home. Victims at Work. Employers confront domestic violence

Friday, April 11, 2014

7:30 Registration, 8 a.m. to noon Sessions

600 Jefferson

The Urban Child Institute

Parking in Visitor Lot west of Neely

Available for continuing education credits for human resource and security professionals.

Registration is $25.

Register online at memphisareawomen.eventbrite.com

or mail to Memphis Area Women's Council

2574 Sam Cooper Blvd., Memphis TN 38112.

Sponsors

Memphis Area Women's Council, Verizon, United Way of the Mid-South, HRO-Partners, The Urban Child Institute,
University of Memphis Society of Human Resources Management student chapter, Splash Creative

This workshop will equip you or your representative with the knowledge, understanding and resources to recognize, respond and refer when battered employees need help, and domestic violence comes to your place of business.

This is a safety and security issue, a risk issue, a cost and productivity issue. Come learn how to develop workplace policies and smart, compassionate response for the day when the problem comes to your company.